@ramysoli

Ramy is known as one of Egypt's most aesthetic food bloggers who focuses heavily on mouth watering visuals and high-quality production. Unlike generic reviewers, he often highlights local brands and focuses on the experience of the food rather than just the price.

WHY?

His audience appreciates premium dining and visual story telling, which aligns perfectly with your goal to fix the page appearance and make the content more catchy. Using a high-quality creator like Ramy ensures the video looks premium, which fits your new Fixed Grid strategy perfectly.

IDEA

The collaboration idea will be same as this video reviewing all the plates in additions to adding the review for the full experience with the view . In addition to mentioning in the hook that you can have a perfect sushi plate in cairo only
