Competitor analysis (english)

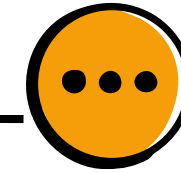

The American University in Cairo

- Strength: Very strong brand trust and recognized certificate.
- Our course: designed for beginners to intermediates, with a freelancing & practical focus and Faster results

Competitor analysis (Marketing)

Cairo Design District / Independent Workshops

- Strength: Short workshops & design talks, inspiring environment, and short-term learning.
- Our course: Complete learning journey (beginner → job-ready), a portfolio with real projects and Continuous mentorship

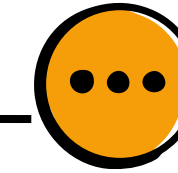

Competitor analysis (Graphic Design)

Based on the client brief, in the upcoming strategy, four campaigns are planned, beginning with a marketing course that will launch in two weeks. This initial campaign is set to have the highest budget allocation among all planned campaigns for these two weeks and the offer campaign with a lower budget for the same two weeks. Finally, in the same first two weeks, the design course campaign and the English course will be running with a very low budget. Moving to the last two weeks, only graphic design and English campaigns will be running with a higher budget for the design course due to the long buying decision and less demand for it compared to the English course.
